We're not looking for the largest; we're looking for the best. A company that's moving forward, with good cash flows, a strong market position, growth in products or services and one that has excelled in 2015.

The business should have a strong long-term strategy, and be ambitious in its outlook and vision. We're also looking for a company that's committed to supporting its local or wider community. Above all we're looking for a British business that may also punch above its weight whether in the UK or on the international stage. The winner will exhibit the broad range of Award Criteria for all other categories except those specific to a family business or rising star.

Please complete the submission under each of the headings.
